

Garrison Answers Newest Accusation With New Charge

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison said that his office has exchanged information with the intelligence agency of a foreign country "that successfully penetrated the assassination operation" against President John F. Kennedy, the Times-Picayune reported today. According to the newspaper report, Garrison said that "the great amount of detailed information" he received from the foreign country verifies his statements that Kennedy was assassinated "by elements of the Central Intelligence Agency." Garrison declined to identify the country but he did say that it is in Europe and is "a foreign power that militarily is on friendly terms with the United States," the newspaper reported. The district attorney said, according to the newspaper report, that he was making the disclosure about the contact with the foreign intelligence agency because of indications of another "CIA-inspired" campaign in magazines to discredit his investigation. The paper said Garrison referred specifically to an article in the New Yorker magazine dated July 12. The article by Edward Jay Epstein, a critic of the Warren Commission, attacks Garrison's investigation of the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas in November 1963. Epstein said in the 25,000-word piece, "In the years I have been studying Garrison's investigation and have had access to his office, the only evidence I have seen or heard about that could connect Clay Shaw with the assassination has been fraudulent—some devised by Garrison himself and some cynically called from criminals or the emotionally unstable." The Times-Picayune story gave this account: Garrison said a representative of his office spent about a month with "the top men of their (the foreign country's) intelligence agency" and returned about a month ago. He did not identify the representative. He also said that an "intermediary" from the country contacted his office about three or four months ago. They arranged to make contact and exchange information.

He described the information he obtained as containing "more specifics" than his office had gotten. Garrison said that because of the foreign country having a larger, more professional operation, its agents were able to follow up more details, especially in Dallas.

Million Spent On Convention But It May Go

CHICAGO (AP) — More than $1.3 million has been spent so far in Chicago for the Democratic National Convention, which may be moved out of the city unless a strike affecting preparations is settled. Mayor Richard J. Daley, a power in Democratic party councils, repeatedly has laughed off reports his city might lose the convention. He has insisted the convention will go on in Chicago Aug. 26 as scheduled.

But Tuesday John M. Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee which runs the quadrennial nominating conventions, said, "I don't rule out the possibility we might move if the labor difficulties are not resolved by the end of next week."

Bailey added that there are no present plans for a move. Daley continues to tell newsmen: "We'll have a good, old-fashioned, old-time Democratic convention with the delegates in charge and maybe without you media folks all over the place."

A strike in progress since May 8 against the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. is threatening the convention that would bring thousands of delegates, alternates, their wives and families, plus other thousands of aides and onlookers to Chicago for most of a week.

On strike and picketing are members of a local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. These are the specialists who install telephones, television cables and other communications equipment in the International Amphitheatre, the convention floor and hotels where the delegations set up headquarters.

A picket line at any of these locations most likely would keep other craftsmen off the job — carpenters, painters and others needed to get the hall and rooms into shape.

Joseph O'Brien, Bell spokesman, said the longer the strike continues "the less facilities for news coverage there will be." He said Bell has spent $400,000 of the $1.3 million it expects to spend on installations. This would be lost if the convention moved to another city.

O'Brien said television network coverage might be impossible if the strike goes on much longer. "Installing their lines is the most time consuming, and time is what we're running out of. Only so many men fit in a manhole; we couldn't make up the delay by adding extra crews."

The city of Chicago will have to write off more than $400,000 if the convention falls through, officials said. Chicago pledged $750,000 to the party's expense chest and threw in an additional $300,000 promise for miscellaneous expenses.

Going To Vietnam

Congress has been prodding the Pentagon to make certain the United States maintains qualitative if not quantitative superiority over the Soviet Union in this field.

Clifford also told reporters he is going to Vietnam Saturday, his first trip to the war zone as defense chief.

U.S. Studies Big New Sub Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has set the stage for a possible expansion of the U.S. nuclear attack submarine force with his approval of a new super-fast model.

Clifford told a news conference Thursday he has ordered the top scientific and technical brains to work on the vessel, understood to carry a price tag of about $185 million. This is $100 million more than the latest Sturgeon class atomic sub whose mission is to hunt and kill enemy underwater craft.

The authorization was a partial victory for Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the Navy's nuclear expert, who was pushing the Pentagon for advanced American submarines to meet the growing Soviet undersea force.

May Ax Quiet Sub

But as Clifford announced he had authorized the new sub, Rickover helped design, he left open the possibility another Rickover favorite—a superquiet sub—may get the ax.

This submarine, which could track enemy vessels with great stealth, was approved last year but the Pentagon has been threatening to abandon it to save money.

Rickover, a congressional favorite, has been arguing through Capitol Hill committees for the quiet sub, but the outlook has dimmed. Clifford said a decision on its fate will be forthcoming in the next few weeks. The approved sub—Clifford didn't say how much faster it would be than present 30-knot vessels—is slated for full budgeting in 1970, defense officials said. Long-lead-time parts are sought under the fiscal 1969 budget now before Congress.

Build In 1970

The authorized nuclear attack force stands at 69 submarines, about half of which have been built, with the other half either under construction or approved.

Work on the last four is scheduled to begin in 1969 and 1970, and defense officials said the high-speed version will be one of the last two models.

Officials say this leaves open the possibility that after 1970 the 69-sub ceiling might be raised to permit construction of more of the new superfast subs, highly advanced over the latest Sturgeon class, to maintain a check on the Soviet submarine fleet.

Congress has been prodding the Pentagon to make certain the United States maintains qualitative if not quantitative superiority over the Soviet Union in this field.

Clifford also told reporters he is going to Vietnam Saturday, his first trip to the war zone as defense chief.

Terrorist Kills American Soldier On Saigon Street

SAIGON (AP) — A terrorist shot and killed a U.S. soldier in downtown Saigon today amid reports that Viet Cong suicide commandos are expected to raid the capital at any time. The assassination was the first against an American reported in Saigon since the Viet Cong's second offensive against the capital in May.

Extra guards were posted at the U.S. Embassy and other key installations, and police were put on 100 per cent alert. The raids, if they come, likely would open the third Viet Cong offensive of the year against Saigon, an attack that has been expected for weeks.

The terrorist's victim was shot three times less than a mile from the presidential palace and taken to an Army hospital. His assailant escaped.

Peterson And McClure Seek GOP Positions

LANSING (AP)—State Republican Chairman Elly Peterson and Harold McClure, former co-chairman of the state's GOP Finance Committee, today announced their candidacies for seats on the party's national committee.

National committeewoman Ella Koeze and committeeman John B. Martin, both of Grand Rapids, have announced decisions to step down when their terms expire this year.

Elections to the two posts will be held during the Republican national convention at Miami Beach Aug. 5-9.

"We are asking Mrs. Koeze and Mr. Martin to continue their service to Michigan Republicans until after the November general election," Mrs. Peterson and McClure said in a joint statement. Their terms expire officially when new committee members are chosen in August.

Mrs. Peterson said that if elected to the national post, she would continue to serve as state chairman until her term expires in February.

U.S. sources said they had no confirmation of the South Vietnamese intelligence reports warning of commando raids. But American troops "are in a complete state of readiness to meet any enemy attacks" and have been for months, a spokesman said.

But Vietnamese police sources said guards were increased at the U.S. Embassy, where a Viet Cong suicide squad struck Jan. 30 at the beginning of the Tet offensive and held out for several hours in the embassy grounds. More government troops also were sent to bridges leading into the city and various checkpoints on Saigon's outskirts.

High-ranking Vietnamese officers said they had received reports the American Embassy would be attacked again and the national police headquarters would be another target. An unconfirmed report said the Viet Cong had stolen an official U.S. car, apparently to fill it with explosives and use it to attack an American installation. U.S. Embassy security men armed with machine guns were seen at the Rex, one of the major U.S. officers' billets, checking American cars for explosives.

One South Vietnamese source said the Viet Cong "have to make a noise" before July 20; the 14th anniversary of the Geneva agreements which divided Vietnam.

"They have been losing so much they have to boost the morale of their troops," the source added.

15 States Hunt Slayer Of Three

Premier Wants Vatican Taxed

ROME (AP) — Caretaker Premier Giovanni Leone, trying to rebuild a majority center-left coalition by fall, is seeking Socialist support with a promise to make the Vatican pay taxes on the dividends it collects in Italy.

The promise helped his Christian Democratic minority government win a vote of confidence Thursday night in the Chamber of Deputies. The vote was 263-252, with 88 abstentions by Socialists and Republicans who could have turned the government out by voting no.

Leone's government is expected to complete its mandate to govern until fall by winning another vote of confidence in the Senate next week.

Taxing the Vatican is something no other Italian government ever dared mention. Leone's proposal would require the Vatican to pay the 30 per cent dividend tax every other Italian investor pays. This would include $8 million to $11 million in arrears dating back to 1963, when the tax took effect.

The premier's problem is to put through enough reform legislation to satisfy the Socialists before their party congress this fall, when they will decide whether to rejoin the Christian Democrats to form a majority government. There is no other feasible way to form a majority in the Chamber of Deputies.

On the other hand, Leone's plans for reform face a stiff fight from the right wing of his own party. He hopes to mollify this faction by not pressing for other Socialist programs, like a divorce law.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano accused Leone of lacking good manners in the tax matter. An unsigned note in the paper said he did not consult the Vatican beforehand and thus "disregarded the elementary rules of international law."

The article also implied that Leone was trying to break the 1929 Italian-Vatican concordat, which granted the Church broad exemption from taxation.

VFW Fund Will Aid Vietnamese

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joseph A. Scerra, national commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has announced that $90,000 raised by the VFW will be turned over to Gen. William Westmoreland for the Tet Offensive Relief Fund.

Scerra made the announcement Thursday to 3,000 delegates at the 49th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars. The general is to appear at the VFW convention at Detroit in August.

Scerra also reminded the delegates of the campaigns that have been waged by the VFW. He said the organization sponsored the flag desecration bill now awaiting the President's signature, and was cited by the Navy Department for a suggestion that resulted in the reactivation of the battleship USS New Jersey.

The convention today is to consider resolutions demanding the return of the captured destroyer Pueblo and asking for increased benefits for returning veterans.

Bronx Gunman Shoots Four And Escapes

NEW YORK (AP) — Police today pressed a massive manhunt for a Bronx gunman who killed three persons and wounded a fourth with a hail of fire from an automatic carbine.

Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Burton Roberts said a 15-state alarm was issued for one Bobby Rogers, alias Bobby Pugh, 31, who was superintendent of the building in front of which the shootings occurred Thursday evening.

The rapid-fire shooting brought more than 200 policemen armed with rifles, revolvers, shotguns and tear-gas guns and wearing bullet-proof vests to the dingy orange tenement into which the gunman fled.

As thousands of spectators swarmed to watch, police searched the five-story building but failed to find the man. They concluded he had escaped through a basement connecting three buildings on the block.

The dead were identified as Manuel Angel Figueroa, 19, Efrain Castro, 21, and Jose Rivera, 18. Roberts said preliminary evidence indicated the man being sought knew all three.

Police said Figueroa was dead on arrival at Lincoln Hospital and that Castro and Rivera died at the hospital.

Roberts described Rogers as a light-skinned Negro, about 5 feet 11, 160 pounds. He said the man had been honorably discharged from the Army in 1962 and took the superintendent's job on Dec. 1, 1967.

The shooting came just eight days after police killed a Central Park sniper, Angel Angelof, who had shot to death a young woman and wounded three other persons.

The violence began at about 6:27 p.m. when the gunman appeared near the stoop of the tenement on East 138th Street and started firing a .30-caliber automatic carbine which had been sawed off at both the stock and barrel police said.

The crowd began gathering as quickly as police. Youths climbed atop cars to get a better view and police roped off the block to keep spectators back.

Griffin Keeps Up Drumfire On Naming Justices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leading opponent of President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations say the two appointees may have been part of "a flagrant disregard of the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., made the remark Thursday on the Senate floor in a preview of his testimony today before the Senate Judiciary Committee as it continued hearings into the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as associate justice.

Thornberry now is a judge on the federal Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Delay Questioning The Judiciary Committee opened hearings into the nominations Thursday, but put off questioning of Fortas until next week.

Griffin said he wanted to know how big a role Abe Fortas, nominated to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice, played in White House decisions while serving on the court since 1965. Fortas is a longtime Johnson friend and adviser.

And, Griffin said, he also wants to know why Thornberry, another old friend of the President, served an extra five months in Congress in 1963 after being named a federal judge in Texas.

Griffin cited "reports that the arrangement was designed to insure Mr. Thornberry's vote on legislative issues during the interim."

The senator added: "This situation again suggests a flagrant disregard of the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

White House Adviser? Griffin said the committee should find out "how many times Mr. Fortas has been consulted, or the extent to which he has been involved, if at all, in actions and decisions of the White House while he has been a member of the court."

"If the doctrine of separate powers is important," Griffin said, "what justification could be offered in the event a member of the judicial branch should actively participate on a regular, undisclosed basis in decisions of the executive branch while serving on the bench?"

Shortly after the committee opened its hearing it agreed to a request by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., that direct questioning of Fortas be delayed until next Tuesday.

Military Funds Get House OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $21.6 billion military procurement authorization has passed the House and been sent to joint House-Senate conference committee.

The House passed the bill Thursday by a vote of 362 to 15 after beating back three attempts to cut it. The measure is $748 million less than asked by the Defense Department, but more than the $21.3 billion passed by the Senate.

The bill would authorize funds for aircraft, missiles, naval vessels, tracked combat vehicles, research, development, test and evaluation.

One of the attempts to cut the authorization was made by Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., a member of the Armed Forces Committee. His amendment to delete $137.9 million for the purchase of 15 Cheyenne helicopters for the Army was defeated 121-47.

An attempt by Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., to delete $343.1 million for the Sentinel antiballistic missile system was turned back 147-40.

Soo Urban Grant

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — The Canadian government Thursday approved a $360,000 grant for an urban program in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The fund will be used to redevelop a 30-acre area along the St. Marys River. The total cost of the project is estimated at $1.5 million.

The action was taken under a new Michigan law which permits local counties to permit Sunday liquor sales by resolution of the Board of Supervisors.

Action will be considered by the Delta County Board of Supervisors at 7:30 p. m., today at the Delta County Building.

Presently, sale of beer and wine is permitted after noon Sundays, but no sales of liquor are allowed.

U.P. Erupts With Nuisance Bears

By KENNETH S. LOWE
Are bears in the Upper Peninsula becoming bolder? Or are there just more of them?

Whatever the reason, the Conservation Department in the Upper Peninsula has received more complaints about nuisance bears this year than ever before.

"Every day we get at least one complaint about bears," said John Kamppinen, Marquette, regional radio dispatcher for the department.

"It seems that bears in the western Upper Peninsula are in the middle of a population explosion," commented Hugh Fisher, Baraga, district law supervisor for the department. "In the past six weeks or so, bears have become such a nuisance around rural homes, cottages, parks, campgrounds and even residential areas that the conservation officers of the district have been literally swamped with complaints. In June alone, officers spent almost 100 man - hours and drove more than 1,000 miles to investigate and correct bear problems."

68 Are Live-Trapped
Across the Upper Peninsula, the department has received more than 80 complaints about nuisance bears so far this summer. Department crews have live - trapped no fewer than 68 bears and released them a some distance from where they were caught to prevent further damage.

In addition, conservation officers, home owners and police have shot at least 16 bears that created nuisances in communities or at homes in rural areas.

Two bears that strayed into the city limits of Marquette were shot. Other bears have been seen this summer in Ishpeming, and in nearby National Mine as many as four bears were observed at one time.

One of the bears shot in Marquette carried an ear tag indicating it had been live-trapped in Iron County last April 30 and transferred 96 miles by truck to a remote spot in Alger County, where it was released. The bear apparently was headed back to Iron County when it wandered into Marquette within three weeks after being released. Marquette is 56 miles from the release point.

Many On Highway
Drivers have reported seeing many bears along Upper Peninsula highways and six bears are known to have been killed by cars so far this summer above the Straits.

Conservation Officer Jack McGinty of Baraga saw no less than six bears last Tuesday morning when he drove from Baraga to Covington—to answer a bear damage complaint. En route he spotted a mother bear and two cubs as he left Baraga and a similar family group as he neared Covington.

Elsworth Harger, game biologist at the Cusino Wildlife Research Station near Shingletown, has live-trapped and tagged 42 bears already this year, an all-time record for him. During all of 1967 he tagged 40 bears, his previous high mark. Five of the bears were trapped in the Tahquamenon Falls State Park this summer.

In Every Bar
Stories about encounters with bear are told in every bar and barbershop in the Upper Peninsula these days. Here are some samples:

Two adult bears walked through an open door into a kitchen at McGinty's Resort at Copper Harbor one day early in the summer. A woman cook saw them and screamed, whereupon the bears broke the screen in a window and fled.

The manager of a co - op store at Watton in Baraga County reported that a bear broke down the door of his warehouse and fed on packaged dog food and tore open several sacks of flour. The door was repaired, only to be damaged a second time, apparently by the same bear. A live-trap was set for the culprit, and it was trapped Thursday morning. A bear ripped open a tent at Muskallonge Lake State Park, scaring the wits out of the camper who was inside the tent.

Stares At Family
At Lake Gogebic State Park a bear walked up on the porch of the park supervisor's residence, put his face against a window pane and stared at the family inside. When the bruin refused to move when the supervisor and his children make a ruckus inside, the assistant park manager was summoned to drive the bear away. The bear ignored the assistant manager but eventually tired of window peeping and sauntered off into the woods, pausing long enough on the way to rip open a camper's tent.

On July 3, Larry Ross of Covington shot a 387 - pound bear that entered the storm shed attached to the rear of his home. The bear had torn a screen door off its hinges to gain entrance. Ross, his wife and small child were awakened by the bear at 1 in the morning.

Raid Camp Cooler
John Ginty of Baraga, son of the conservation officer mentioned above, was awakened one night recently by noise made by a large black bear on his front porch.

A camper at Tahquamenon Falls State Park reported that a bear raided his cooler, than took off with his grill and the chicken he was cooking on it.

Mrs. Russell Guilliat of Dafer in Chippewa County was cooking a meat loaf when she noticed a bear looking in the garage windows last Sunday afternoon. She grabbed a movie camera and filmed the bear circling the yard. When the bear disappeared, she resumed her household duties, but a few minutes later Mrs. Guilliat discovered the animal peering into the bedroom window, try to claw through the screen. Mrs. Guilliat, who was home alone, grabbed a gun and fired twice at the bear, sending the animal hurtling into the woods. But again the bear returned and began to dig in a garbage can. Mrs. Guilliat frightened the intruder away this time by slamming the kitchen door with a loud bang.

Pilot Sammy McKay of Grand Blanc and copilot Marge Ashton of Birmingham flew their small plane from the West Coast to Savannah, Ga., a distance of 2,500 miles. ## The Fair Store's Basement Store Is Modernized

Remodeling of The Fair Store basement store has been completed, providing customers a larger and more balanced assortment of merchandise in a brighter atmosphere.

Aaron Stein, secretary-treasurer, said the complete modernization program was carried out in cooperation with The Fair Store's buying service in New York. He said the remodeled section allows the store to present more merchandise in the space and still maintain the store's standards of quality.

"The basement store of The Fair Store is a complete store within a store designed for the budget-minded shopper," he said.

George Miller, store manager, said the basement store project included a complete redecorating featuring light colors and the installation of new lighting fixtures and new self-service counters and hanging facilities for display of merchandise.

The remodeling began April 1.

The project is the latest in a continuing series of improvements at The Fair Store, Stein said.

Caution Is Urged In Food Handling

The Delta-Menominee District Health Dept. urges caution in handling and preparing foods, especially when feeding large groups of people.

The greatest number of reported outbreaks of illnesses associated with food last year occurred in homes, said Dr. Mary Cretens, director. The largest number of persons who reportedly suffered from illness associated with food, however, was composed of those who had eaten at banquets or other gatherings.

Beef, pork, turkey and fish were most often involved, but all kinds of foods were listed as possible sources of sickness, she said.

Most meats, including fish, shrimp, and fowl, have a disagreeable odor when they are spoiled or contaminated. In addition, uncooked fish meat that pulls away easily from the bones, dressed fowl that is sticky to the touch, and beef, pork, and similar fresh meats that become slimy are considered unusable as food.

When preparing raw fruits and vegetables, look for white to grayish powdery deposits, Dr. Cretens added. These may indicate presence of agricultural chemicals that could be harmful. They should be washed off the food completely before preparing it. A good test for canned foods is to note tops and bottoms to see if they have swelled out into dome-like shapes. This usually means that the contents have spoiled. Also, canned food that is unfit for use will often have an abnormal odor.

Popular salad spreads, such as those made from chicken, egg, tuna and ham, must be kept refrigerated until ready to eat, Dr. Cretens continued. Similarly, custard-filled pastries and some cold cuts need constant refrigeration as protection against the growth of potentially harmful organisms in them. A good point to remember, is that foods which are refrigerated when purchased should be kept refrigerated until clean.

Left-over foods should be examined completely before serving, for unnatural odor, visible growth of mold, unusual appearance, etc. Refrigeration below 40 degrees will help retard spoilage of left-overs, but for safety such foods should be cooked again before eating.

Another factor is personal cleanliness in food preparation. Those responsible for food should wash hands thoroughly before starting and keep them clean during preparation. Clean clothes or aprons are recommended, and individuals with open cuts or scratches or infections of the skin should not be permitted to handle and prepare foods.

"Don't let your picnic, party or banquet become the cause of illness for your guests through improper food handling and preparation," Dr. Cretens emphasized. "When in doubt, throw it out."

Hospital Shares In U.S. Project

The Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, Peoria, Ill., who own and operate St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba, along with other facilities, have been awarded $401,355 to continue the "Shared Hospital Information System" project, conducted at the Order's computer center in Peoria.

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Public Health Services, notified the Order of continuing support. The project started in 1967, with a $161,885 grant. Total commitment for the research, through 1969, was recommended to be $1,743,386.

The objective of the project is to demonstrate the feasibility of the Shared Hospital Information System, through the computer center, using it as a huge data pool and communications network.

Primary benefit of the project to the health industry would be to improve patient services and stabilize costs through automation.

Project implementation is anticipated by early 1969, at St. Francis Hospital in Peoria, with St. Mary's at Galesburg, Ill., and St. Anthony's of Rockford, Ill., to follow, and the others as soon as possible thereafter.

Romney Sweater May Be Replaced

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's trademark — a blue sweater — may soon be replaced.

"Some of my kids bought me a new sweater for my birthday," Romney disclosed here during a press conference. He made the statement while wearing his traditional blue sweater.

"I've had some old ladies complain about wearing my blue sweater all the time," he added.

But he did not say whether he would soon replace the blue garment with the new sweater. Nor did he reveal its color.

Wheaton Strom, a native of Escanaba and son of the late Attorney Torval E. Strom of Escanaba, was graduated from Escanaba High School in 1931 and from the University of Michigan College of Literature in 1936 and from its Law School with the degree of Juris Doctor, and award of the Order of Coif, in 1939.

He was admitted to the practice of law in Grand Rapids in 1939 and has practiced law in Delta County from 1941 except for service in the Navy in World War II. He was a deck officer with an anti-submarine warfare specialist rating and served in the Asiatic Pacific theater on a destroyer escort.

He served as circuit court commissioner for two years, was a member of the Escanaba city charter revision commission in 1952-54, of the Escanaba Board of Tax Review, the Escanaba County Board of Supervisors, of which he was chairman for five consecutive terms. He has been a director of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and was a founder of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Escanaba Area Board of Education until his recent resignation.

He served as chairman of the Delta County Democratic Committee from 1953 to '57; was assistant state Democratic chairman in 1952-56 and chairman of the state Democratic convention in 1955.

Offer Reward In Coed Slaying

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Eastern Michigan University student newspaper said Thursday it is offering a reward of $300 for information about the death of Joan Schell, 20, the EMU coed whose body was found east of Ann Arbor last Friday.

Ann Arbor Senior Police Capt. Harold E. Olson said the offer could slow the investigation.

The Eastern Echo offered the reward "for information leading directly to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the death of Miss Schell."

But the paper stipulated that any information be sent to its editor to be eligible for the reward.

Olson said the investigation "could be slowed down for critical hours or days" if the information does not immediately reach police officials.

He said he asked that the wording of the reward offer be changed.

Briefly Told

A car driven by Adolore Bouchard, Flint, struck a deer on County Road 569 in Menominee County about 9 a. m., Thursday, State Police reported. Bouchard was not injured.

State Police are investigating the possible theft of an automobile from Jerry Frazer, 823 Sheridan Rd. Frazer told troopers that he left his 1953-model Chevrolet along Federal Forest Highway 13 after the drive shaft broke on July 4. When he returned to get it, he said, the car was gone. Officers said the two-tone green car had license UF-1629. Officers said they are checking to determine whether or not the Forest Service had the car towed away.

World's Finest Bourbon a 173-Year-Old Secret

CHICAGO, ILL.—Before you can call yourself the world's finest anything—you'd better have a case in your favor.

Jim Beam Bourbon has that "case."

The whole matter started with Jacob Beam—who would be 200 years old this year—and a secret he discovered.

The secret, in the case of Jim Beam Bourbon, goes back to 1795, and it is still hush-hush today. The secret lay in the heart of Kentucky where there was, and is today, the right combination for pleasure. The right land. The right climate: the perfect Bourbon formula.

In north central Kentucky, Jacob Beam found clean iron-free water—water that came from limestone springs considered the very finest. Beam set out to make Bourbon in the rolling country and he made his own special way.

Six generations later, the price of the distiller through generations is still the same. Every glass of Jim Beam Bourbon is nature and the Booker Noe—over a span of 173 years.

And it's still a big secret.

All those Beams have rested their case on that's worthy of it.

The quality of the Jim Beam Bourbon today owes much to the preservation and a touch to the original formula.

Fortas' Confirmation

U. S. Senator Robert Griffin (R-Michigan) has been leading a Senate effort to deny confirmation to Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Griffin says that the incoming President should have the choosing of the chief justice. This would be good politics and maybe even good government, but there's ample precedent for President Johnson's action in naming the chief justice before he leaves office.

There is even, of course, the suspicion in many political minds that President Johnson prevailed upon Chief Justice Warren to resign before the election so that Mr. Johnson could name his successor. It has also been suggested that Warren was fearful that Richard Nixon might be elected President and wanted to set up a succession in the chief justice's office before it happened, as Warren is not a leader of the Nixon cheering section.

The Supreme Court sits in judgment on every Congress and every President and there is no appeal from its decisions except to the electorate. While the three major branches of government are equal but separate, a duel has been developing between the court and Congress, which thinks that the court tends to put its own interpretation of what's best down as the law instead of what the lawmakers of Congress intended in legislating.

The Senate recently voted that a trial judge may consider all of the circumstances surrounding a confession and admit it if he decides it was made voluntarily. The Supreme Court had said in the Miranda case two years ago that a confession was invalid unless the suspect has been given a series of notices prior to questioning and unless he understands that the police will make available to him a lawyer to advise him during the questioning. This ruling has been widely criticized by police officials as a barrier to effective questioning of criminal suspects.

The Supreme Court, under Chief Justice Warren has moved toward greater liberality, toward more protection for the individual. Under Fortas the court could be expected to implement the principles which distinguished the Warren Court.

Fortas has been a member of the court for two years, having succeeded Justice Arthur Goldberg in 1965 when he went to the United Nations. He has been a crony of Lyndon Johnson's for many years, but no one has suggested that he was in Johnson's pocket. The respect in which he's held is indicated by Republican Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, who supports his confirmation despite the Griffin drive to prevent it. Ev seems to think that if this is cronyism, let's have more of it.

Fortas has usually sided with the liberal block of the court on matters affecting criminal justice and race, but in cases involving the economy and business he's been with the conservatives, opposing the liberals who fought big business and mergers. The courts, said Fortas, may be the guardians of the people's liberties, but they're not the bosses of its economy.

Fortas has a distinguished record of work for social justice. His law firm took on many more free cases than normal legal ethics would suggest because he believes that a law firm shouldn't be operated only for profit. He dissented last month from a 5-4 decision that labeled public drunkenness a crime. He argued that "criminal penalties may not be inflicted upon a person for being in a condition he is powerless to change."

This thinking is in the Fortas mold and the Warren tradition. Fourteen years ago he got the District of Columbia Court of Appeals to adopt a broadened rule for criminal insanity to bring the law into line with modern psychiatry. His dissent on the drunkenness decision is apt to become the majority opinion of the court eventually.

His record, it seems to us, is impressive and wholesome in this time. He doesn't want the Supreme Court encouraging government in its adventuring into business control and he doesn't want living dehumanized in our industrial age. His influence would have been there in the court for life, even if Richard Nixon were elected President, but as chief justice he would be much more influential.

If you want to find where a horse has strayed try to think like a horse. If you want to learn to bid like an expert learn to think like an expert.

Of course, you won't always be right. Bridge experts make mistakes and some of them are humblers.

Now for a little expert thinking with the East hand. Your heart bid is quite sound and you are delighted when your partner takes you right to game. You expect you will make your contract easily. You aren't worried about South's one spade overall but you don't like the way North is thinking and you like it even less when North bids four spades.

Your first thought is to double. Your second is that it would be far better to double five spades. Maybe you can bring home five hearts anyway. Even if you can't isn't it likely that a five bid will push South to five spades?

So your second thought is to bid five hearts. However, if you really are an expert you will have a third thought which is that maybe a club lead will be more effective against spades than hearts.

Now you have finished thinking like an expert and you proceed to bid five clubs just as an expert would.

Your partner will take you back to hearts if South passes but South bids five spades. It comes around to you and you double. Your partner leads a club and you manage to beat five spades exactly one trick but you should be mighty happy about the whole thing. If you hadn't bid clubs and your partner had opened a heart declarer would have raved home with his five spades.

State Has Nearly 20,000 Public Campground Sites

The appeal of Michigan camping vacations has been expanded with the addition of more than 450 state park campsites, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

In addition to raising the total number of sites to nearly 13,400, park facilities have been improved for the enjoyment and comfort of campers and other park users. Electrical service has been extended to some 800 additional campsites, making almost 11,000 sites with electrical outlets.

Michigan now has more than 19,400 prepared campsites. In addition to those in the state parks, there are some 2,300 in the 141 state forest campgrounds, 1,600 in the 82 national forest campgrounds, and more than 2,000 in 73 county, township and city parks.

Because of the universal appeal of a campfire, one of the popular appeals of Michigan camping has been the campfire circle. A large number of state parks and recreation areas now have these circles at every campsite, with supplies of wood available nearby.

The price of a single day admission to any of the Michigan State Parks is $1 for residents and $2 for non-residents. An annual entrance permit is $5 for non-residents and $3 for residents. Daily camping fees still range from $1.50 to $2 depending on the facilities provided.

The modernization program has gone beyond the physical equipment and facilities in state parks. In line with the increased desire to learn more about nature and the outdoors, new interpretive displays have been installed at Fayette, Indian Lake, Palms Book, Muskallonge Lake, Tahquamenon Falls, Aloha, Harrisville, North Higgins Lake, Wilson, Lakeport and Port Crescent State Parks.

Free copies of the new campground directory and other Michigan vacation planning information can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Mich., 48926.

Reagan Ducks Michigan Talk

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Ronald Reagan has declined to appear before the Michigan delegation to the Republican National Convention.

Romney had asked Reagan to appear before the delegation following meetings with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

"I don't believe it would be appropriate to make a special trip, so may I suggest meeting with all of you in Miami at convention time," Reagan replied in a letter.

"I think he is the greatest pseudo-noncandidate in history," Romney added after reading the California governor's letter.

MSU Student Fees Are Hiked

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University has announced a fee increase of $5-$15 a quarter on its sliding scale tuition plan for undergraduate students in the 1968-69 school year.

Nonresident undergraduate and graduate students will pay $4-$20 per quarter, depending on the number of hours carried. A $118 quarterly fee for resident students whose family income is under $11,800 goes to $123 a quarter for students whose family income is under $12,300 a year.

The previous fee of one per cent a quarter from students of families with income of $11,800-$16,666 will be boosted to one per cent of family income from $12,300 to $18,400.

The top fee of $167 a quarter for those of family parental income of more than $16,666 will be raised to $184 a quarter for those whose family income exceeds $18,400.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan President Dr. Robben W. Fleming has appointed his special assistant, Prof. Barbara Newell, as the schools interim vice president for student services.

Fleming, however, stressed that the appointment of Mrs. Newell, 39, is only temporary. She will assume the position Aug. 1 and will hold it until a search committee finds a permanent replacement for Dr. Richard L. Cutler, the outgoing vice president for student affairs.

Cutler, who has held the post since 1964, is expected to assume an as yet undisclosed high administrative post with U-M.

Mrs. Newell will become the first woman vice president of Michigan since the school was founded in 1817. She has served as a special assistant and troubleshooter for Fleming since he came to Michigan last year and previously served as his assistant at the University of Wisconsin.

Ann Landers

Retired Husband Is Driving Her Batty

Dear Ann Landers: My husband retired two years ago at age 60. Mike was an avid golfer and looked forward to retirement so he could play as much golf as he wanted. But soon after his 60th birthday he developed a little arthritis in one arm. The doctor said he could still play golf but Mike refused to try.

A few months later he suffered a slight stroke. For two years he has done nothing but look at TV, drink and feel sorry for himself.

My once good life is now hell. Mike wants me to wait on him hand and foot. If he were totally incapacitated I'd gladly do it. But he could do many things for himself if he tried.

When I return from a bridge game he accuses me of being with men. He threatens to kill himself and "get out of my way." I sometimes think he is resentful that I have good health and he does not.

What should I do? If I stay home day and night I'll go crazy. Before his illness Mike was never an arguer. Now he picks a fight and keeps it going for hours. I need help.—N. Y. DILEMMA

Dear N. Y.: Have you discussed Mike's behavioral changes with his doctor? If you haven't, you should.

Sometimes when an active man retires he becomes depressed and cantankerous but what you describe suggests that "slight stroke" may have produced a little brain damage. Make an appointment with Mike's doctor today. It could change your thinking considerably.

Dear Ann Landers: You could do a lot of good in this world if you weren't so doggedly rock-headed. In the last year you printed letters from three women who sounded great. I wrote and asked for their names and addresses and got three flat turn-downs. Why? Don't you know there are a lot of lonesome people in this world who can't afford to go to nice places and meet high-class folks? These people need help. A column where readers tell about themselves is a perfect place to make connections.

I've been married four times. (The first two don't count because I was too young to know better). I have finally learned how to treat a woman now that I am older. Life would be rosy if I had a lovely wife by my side. Why don't you be a good egg and put me in touch with either "Blues in the Night," "Ready and Able," or "Lonely Louise"? —MUSCLES MIKE

Dear Mike: You say you are a four-time loser and now if you had a good woman by your side life would be rosy. That's some recommendation, Buddy Boy. Find "Rosy" on your own.

Strangers can be dangerous and, oftentimes, the nicer they seem the nuttier they are. I want no part of friend-finding.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 16, I have a driver's license and I am a very good driver but my parents will not allow me to drive by myself. What good is a driver's license if I can't drive without a chaperone?

My dad says the only reason they let me get a license is so I'd get off their backs.

I keep telling them I need the experience of driving alone but they won't listen. Last week I drove the family six times. If they didn't think I was a safe driver they would not have driven with me, would they?

Please give me some help.—C. H.

Dear C. H.: Be patient, Chicken, your time will come. Continue to display competence at the wheel and stop begging. When you beg you sound like a small child and small children should not be driving cars.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex and How To Tell the Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin with your request.

Annual Galilean Service Planned At Rapid River

Members and friends of surrounding churches are invited to attend. In case of inclement weather the service will be held on July 21.

Sunday Mass On Saturday In 3 Parishes

Heavy influx of tourists or summer residents, the number of priests available to serve them and over-crowding in churches were reasons three parishes of the Diocese have received permission from Bishop Charles A. Salakta to celebrate a "Sunday" Mass on Saturday evening.

The three are St. Anthony's of Gwinn, St. Gregory's of Newberry and Immaculate Conception of Watersmeet.

While this does not eliminate the commandment to keep holy the Lord's Day, explains Our Sunday Visitor, it allows those attending a Mass, which may be scheduled between 4 and 8 p. m., Saturday, to fulfill their Sunday obligation.

The Mass to be said on these Saturday evenings, from now until Labor Day, will be that of the Sunday to follow. Those who have received holy communion at a regular Mass on Saturday may also receive at these Masses.

Bishop Salakta described the Sunday Masses as an experiment, and asked for reports at summer's end from each pastor who was given permission.

Miss Brazil Believes In Relaxation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Brazil relaxes better than almost anyone at the Miss Universe Pageant.

Sleep might be a better word than relax for the spare minutes of 20-year-old Martha Vasconcellos, an auburn-haired lovely from Salvador in the Brazilian state of Bahia.

Martha stretches out her shapely 5-foot-8 frame backstage whenever she gets a break from rehearsals. She flops on the floor, on chairs, on another contestant's knee, any place, and closes her exotic green eyes.

"I'm lazy anyway," said Miss Brazil during a waking moment at the hairdresser. "There is no time to sleep here. We got to bed at 1 a.m. and they had us up again at 6 a.m."

"When we're up it's work, work, work so when they say rest, I snore," said Martha, who was among 15 swimsuit competition winners Wednesday night. Miss Brazil won over 28 girls in her state contest, then topped a field of 35 to win the trip to Miami Beach where Miss Universe 1968 will be chosen from a field of 65 Saturday night.

There is at least one distant cheerleader for Miss Brazil who thinks she is Miss Universe material—her fiancé, Reynaldo Loureiro, an engineer in Salvador.

"He sends me a telegram every day saying he is happy that I am here," Martha said. "He always tells me I am the most beautiful girl in the world, even before the contest, so if I don't win I think he would still believe it."

REAR PATIO: Outdoor area shown here is sheltered by dining deck above. View through sliding glass doors is of lower-level family room, which has a brick fireplace.

COMPACT BI-LEVEL: Sometimes called a raised ranch, a bi-level such as this gives extra living space without utilizing additional ground. Note two front balconies, one off the bedroom wing, the other off the living room. Patio and deck are in rear.

Bi-Level Fits On Small Lot

By ANDY LANG

The lack of a large lot on which to build a house can be frustrating to a family requiring three or four bedrooms. It is even worse when there is a strong desire to have such things as a family room, a patio, a deck and other amenities of gracious modern living.

Here is a bi-level plan that satisfies the needs of such a family. With the modest overall dimensions of 45' by 40', including a two-car garage, it nevertheless encompasses 1577 square feet of living area (1217 on the main level) and takes in a rear patio, a deck, a family room and two front balconies. In fact, where zoning regulations permit, the lower level, with large windows above ground, could be made into a rental apartment. Such an arrangement would still give the owners six rooms — three of them bedrooms — and two baths.

The mid-level foyer has a short stairway up to the six-room layout, and another of the same size down to the extra rooms. At the left side of the house are three bedrooms and two baths, one with a powder room vanity alcove. The two bedrooms which face the front have sliding glass doors opening to the charming front balcony. The living room is enhanced by an open rail, gaining spaciousness from the stairwell and the foyer just below. Sliding glass doors at the front open out to the matching balcony.

The dining room forms an L at the back of the living room, and the entire area enjoys a picture window view overlooking the rear deck. Sliding glass doors open from the kitchen to this deck, which can be a private outdoor dining room or play area in good weather.

In a bi-level or high-ranch plan, the lower level is high enough to have large, above-ground windows and a general atmosphere of livability. Thus, this level can offer more than an ordinary basement. Reaching the bottom of the stairway from the foyer, one finds that architect Lester Cohen has placed two rooms at the left — one a fire-placed family room, the other an extra bedroom or a den. The family room has sliding glass doors leading out to the rear patio, which is sheltered by the dining deck above. The extra bedroom has a closet wall and a picture window, sheltered by the main level balcony.

The two-car garage has an indoor area for bikes and gear, and another, facing the outdoors, for garden tools and furniture. Also on this level are a laundry room, a bathroom and a utility room. Toward the front is an extra storage area.

The addition of kitchen facilities in one area of the family room would create a rental apartment of the kind previously mentioned. An alternative would be to dispense with the family room entirely and make a combination room that would serve a two-person family. Or it might be decided to utilize the bedroom space for a kitchen and turn the rest of the right side of the lower level into a living room, with a convertible sofa that could be used for sleeping.

Handsome in appearance, Design Z-49 has a world of advantages for a family with a small amount of available land.

Z-49 STATISTICS

Design Z-49 is a bi-level, with a living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms, a foyer and two baths on the upper or main level, totaling 1217 square feet of livability. There are 360 square feet of living space on the lower level, excluding the two-car garage. Although this level can be arranged as desired, the architect's plans show it divided as a fireplaced family room, a bedroom or den, a laundry room, a bath and storage areas. Overall dimensions are 45' by 40'.

Jobless Rate Inches Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate rose three-tenths of one per cent in June while the civilian labor force topped 80 million workers for the first time, the Labor Department has reported.

The June unemployment rate of 3.8 per cent compared to a rate of 3.5 per cent in May.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said 3.6 million persons were unemployed in June compared with 2.303 million in May.

The bureau said the jump in joblessness to a greater than expected level was due to a rise in the number of young people seeking but failing to get jobs after the closing of schools.

Teen-agers accounted for one million of the unemployment rise over May while joblessness among young people 20 to 24 years old rose 300,000.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, indicated that summer job programs appeared to have failed to open up as much work as had been anticipated for young people.

Antlerless Deer Rules Protested

ROSCOMMON (AP) — Small and big game hunting regulations for the 1968 - 69 seasons were expected to be approved today by the State Conservation Commission.

The proposed regulations are nearly the same as last year, with a recommended antlerless deer kill of 46,000 animals. The Department of Conservation recommended a total deer kill of about 104,000 deer or approximately the same number killed during the 1967 archery and firearm season.

Willard Musall of the Michigan Deer Hunters Association was one of four persons who spoke against the antlerless deer kill at the commission meeting Wednesday. Musall said the antlerless deer season was too long and too liberal. The same sentiment was expressed by other witnesses.

Cut Hunt Day
The game division recommended that firearm hunting hours for deer be from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. instead of 6 a.m. to 7 p.m., and that archery season statewide be from Oct. 1-Nov. 4 and Dec. 1-31.

"I didn't even hit it," said Stanley. "It was a windblown job. As everyone knows, I'm not a home run hitter. I just wait for the wind to blow and get one up in the air."

After Renick's homer, Detroit starter Mickey Lolich settled down until the seventh. Frank Quilici singled and when Bruce Look walked with one out, Pat Dobson replaced Lolich.

Dobson walked Reese, a pinch hitter, and retired Tovar on a shallow fly. But Carew lined a single to right, tying the game.

"I can't remember when we last lost one in the late innings," said McAuliffe. "We haven't lost too many I'll guarantee you."

The defeat was in fact only their third in the last 15 games. Manager Mayo Smith was undecided on tonight's starter against Minnesota's Jim Kaat.

Cards Lucky To Get Spit With Houston

By The Associated Press
A not too funny thing happened to St. Louis' Cardinals when they ran up against the national League's patsies. They were beaten.
And, it took a late rescue effort by Lou Brock and Roger Maris to prevent the rampaging runners from being viced twice by Houston's cellophane Thursday night.
The Astros, who've had a virtual monopoly on last for a while, used a two-run triple by Mike Cuellar in the 10th inning to cap the Cards' seven-game losing string, 5-4, in the opener doubleheader.
The Astros were on the road to reeling that feat, despite a club of six errors, when Maris' and Brock's double each counted for a run in the 10th that let St. Louis escape 8-7 in a bizarre nightcap.
However, the loss didn't do much to dim St. Louis' chances of turning the league race into a farce. The Cards' lead was trimmed only half a game—to 9½.
In other senior circuit games, Atlanta nipped Los Angeles 1-0 on Phil Niekro's four-hitter; San Francisco blasted Cincinnati 7-1; Philadelphia extended Pittsburgh's losing streak to six with a doubleheader sweep, 5-0 and 4-1, and New York edged Chicago 1-0, before dropping the nightcap of a doubleheader 2-0.
Niekro baffled Los Angeles with his dazzling knuckleball and a speeded-up delivery.
"I'm putting just a little more pop in my pitches, and it seems to be paying off," said Niekro, who retired the first 13 batters before yielding a fifth-inning single to Jim Lefebvre.
Joe Torre singled home the Braves' lone run in the first.
Hank Aaron was deprived of becoming only the eighth man in baseball history to hit 500 or more homers when left fielder Jim Faires hauled in one of his long drives at the fence, Aaron needs only one more homer to reach the coveted plateau.
The Giants rode a single, double and homer by Dick Dietz and two run-scoring singles by Ron Hunt in their rout of Cincinnati. Gaylord Perry, 8-6, scattered six hits as San Francisco backed him with an 11-hit attack.
Willie Mays' double in the first inning moved him past Ty Cobb into fourth place on the all-time extra base hit list. It was Mays' 1,140th extra base hit of his career.
Pittsburgh has played three straight doubleheaders—and lost all three.

Teamsters Nip LaFave's 2-0; Near Top Spot

The Teamsters moved within a half game of the league leading Escanaba Merchants by defeating LaFave's Raiders, 2-0, in an Escanaba Softball Association league game played last night at Memorial Field.
The Teamsters scored first on a single by Ed Gauthier, a fielder's choice and an error in the first inning and did not score again until the sixth when Frank Trotter singled and came all the way home when the catcher threw the ball into centerfield trying to nab Trotter stealing second.
Bill Groleau picked up his eighth league victory with a three-hitter. Tom "Jug" Bordeaux was charged with the loss. Gauthier led both teams at bat with a pair of singles.
In the Junior League, Mead Jr., came up with five runs in the ninth to beat the Independents, 6-1.
Games tonight:
6:30 — Stonehouse vs. U. P. Power
8 — AMVET's vs. Independents.

Casper Leads British Open By Four Strokes

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Want to be the biggest money winner on the American golf circuit? Eat buffalo, elk and deer meat.
Want to win the British Open Golf Championship? Eat fish, cold sliced peaches, duck and grapefruit.
What this has to do with golf happens to be Bill Casper, 37, of San Diego, Calif.
He moved into the third round of the British Open this morning, four shots ahead of the field over Carnoustie's murderous 7,252-yard, par-72 links.
Casper, leading money winner in the United States at around $130,000 oozed his way through his first two rounds of 72 and 68 and he confided:
"My non-allergy diet now which took me down from 220 pounds to 185 consists of smoked salmon, whole duck, salad, grapefruit and cold sliced peaches."
Behind Casper at 144 were Britain's Tony Jacklin and Brian Barnes, plus Bob Charles of New Zealand.
At 145 were Gary Player, South Africa, Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, and Paddy Skerrett of Ireland.
Bracketed at 146 were Dave Thomas of Wales and Maurice Benbridge of England.
Before nightfall, this lot of 70 survivors from an original field of 130 will be reduced to the low 45 and ties for Saturday's 18-hole final.
Nicklaus, the 1966 British Open winner at Murfield, and 4 to 1 favorite here in the pre-tournament betting, has his own diet as well. He's drinking milk by the quart and the way he charged home in Thursday's round gave cause for thought.
The 28-year-old Big Bear spun around in a brilliant 69 which put him in the picture at 145, even though five shots off the pace.
His problem was that Casper equalled Ben Hogan's record of 68 set in 1953 but did something more—he created one. Since then, Carnoustie was rebuilt and, in fact, Casper and his diet were one-up on Nicklaus and his diet. His 68 was a record over the existing terrain.
The top Americans were so drawn in the third round to go out late in the day. If the weather continues to be only reasonably cold and windy, which is what Carnoustie is at most times, the early starters have the advantage.

All-Stars Open Workouts Today

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The College All-Stars opened full scale football workouts at Northwestern University today with Coach Norm Van Brocklin starting off with a get-tough policy.
"We will follow the routine of two workouts a day until we feel we have reached a point of excellence where we can afford to cut down to one a day," Van Brocklin said. "If the players are not in shape, they will pay the price for it."
"We will operate under the assumption that we will play a Green Bay Packer team complete with its veterans."
The Collegians are scheduled to meet the Packers, National Football League champions, in the 35th annual All-Star Game Aug. 2, in Soldier Field.
Green Bay's veterans are barred from the club's training camp until agreement is reached between owners and the NFL Players Association. In the meantime, rookies and free agents are the only players in NFL camps.

Dodgers Release Rocky Colavito

TEMPLE, Pa. — (AP) — Will Rocky Colavito, one of baseball's great home run hitters, call it a career at age 35? Don't bother to ask.
"I feel I can play ball every day," said the former Detroit Tiger after learning the Los Angeles Dodgers had given him his unconditional release Thursday.
The Rock, a handsome, dark-haired outfielder who slammed most of his lifetime 369 home runs with the Cleveland Indians, was used primarily as a pinch hitter this year with the Dodgers.
"I saw the handwriting on the wall," he said, "when I got to bat only three times in four weeks. I assumed the Dodgers would sell me or release me."
"But I feel I can still play," Colavito, in his 13th major league season, had a record of 23 hits in 113 at-bats this year for the Dodgers. His three homers in 1968 put him into a tie with Ralph Kiner for 16th place on the all-time list of home run hitters.
Colavito, one of only nine players in baseball history to hit four homers in a game, came up with Cleveland in 1955.
He tied for the American League home run lead in 1959 with Harmon Killebrew, slugging 42. He led the American League in RBI in 1965 with 108.
What about the future?
Colavito said he'd like to hook up with another major league team, but is going to "cool it" for a while.
"I'd like to enjoy my family," he said, "I'm going to take it easy for a while."

Weaver Makes Successful Debut As Oriole Manager

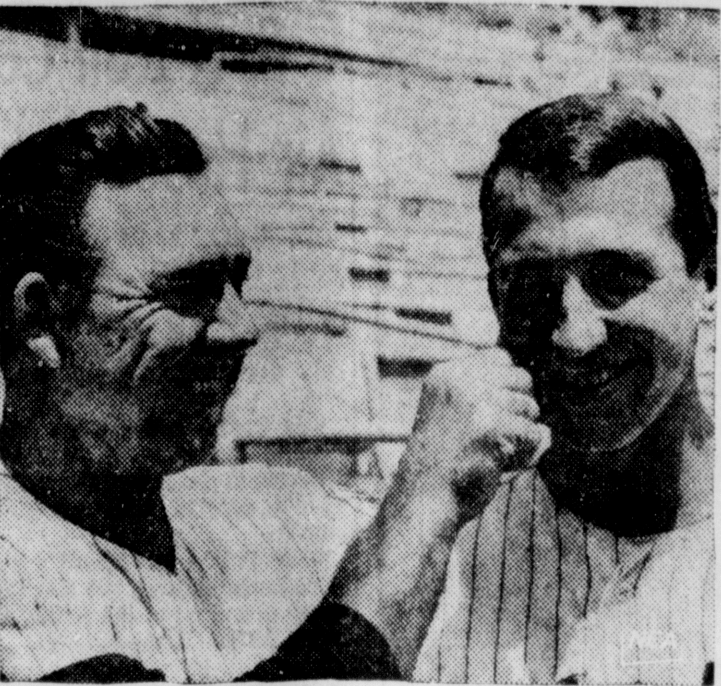

By The Associated Press
Washington is in the midst of another aid program—and Baltimore isn't even a foreign country.
Perhaps charity begins at home, but for the Washington Senators it bursts into full bloom in Baltimore, where they helped make Earl Weaver's debut as manager of the Orioles a success Thursday night by losing a 2-0 squeaker.
The Orioles and Senators have met 10 times this season with the same outcome—a Baltimore victory. Since the Birds are only seven games above .500 with a 44-37 record, it's not hard to see why they're in second place in the American League.
Elsewhere, Minnesota edged league-leading Detroit 5-4, Oakland nipped Cleveland 4-3, California ended Boston's eight-game winning streak 3-2 and the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-4.
Baltimore's victory behind Dave McNally's two-hit pitching moved the Orioles into second place 9½ games behind Detroit and three percentage points ahead of Cleveland.

And Weaver, who replaced Hank Bauer Thursday as resident genius in the Baltimore dugout, looked like he had inherited Casey Stengel's ouija board.
The 37-year-old skipper put Don Buford, an infielder, in center field and moved weak-hitting Mark Belanger from eighth to second in the batting order. The results were astonishing, to say the least.
Buford led off the first inning with a walk, buzzed to third on Belanger's single and scored the Orioles' first run. He homered in the fifth for an insurance tally.
Reggie Jackson's 14th homer with one out in the eighth gave Oakland and Chuck Dobson their triumph over Cleveland. Dobson hurled hitless balls through five innings and the A's took a 3-0 lead in the fourth. But the Indians got one back in the sixth and tied it on Larry Brown's two-run homer in the seventh.
Vic Davalillo's two-run single with the bases loaded and two out climaxed a seventh-inning rally as California ended Boston's winning streak. The Red Sox took a 2-0 lead on an unearned run in the first and Rico Petrocelli's fourth-inning homer.

Andy Kosco started one rally with a double and finished another with a run-scoring single as the Yankees edged the White Sox before a crowd of 40,575 in Milwaukee. It was the fifth of nine American League games the Sox will play in Milwaukee and the largest crowd thus far.
Many turned out to see Mickey Mantle in his first Milwaukee appearance since the 1958 World Series but the Yankee slugger went hitless in five trips.

New Emerald Coach To Begin In August

John LaPointe, 26, will arrive in Manistique in early August and begin his duties as head football coach of the Manistique Emeralds. LaPointe comes to Manistique from Stephenson where he served as coach for the past two seasons and also coached junior varsity basketball and track.
LaPointe, a six-footer weighing 200 pounds, is a 1959 graduate of Ishpeming High School where he was team captain of the football squad in his senior year and named to the All-State Football team of 1958. He attended Michigan State University for one year on a football scholarship, transferring to Northern Michigan University and graduating in 1965. At Northern he was selected to the All-State College Team for two years.
He was assistant football coach at NMU for one year following his graduation and also did scouting; he also coached for two years at San-

Carew Singles Home Winning Run In 9th

MINNEAPOLIS - St. PAUL — (AP) — Rod Carew watched the home run hitters divide four homers early in the game, then the All-Star second baseman poked a pair of late innings singles to settle the score 5-4 in favor of his Minnesota Twins as the Detroit Tigers lost a rare close one.
Carew, who feels "like I'm in the groove pretty good," laced a two-run single to tie it in the seventh and came back in the ninth to win it when he drove in the deciding run with another base hit.
The Tigers, however, managed to hold onto their 9½-game lead over Cleveland as the Indians bowed to Oakland 4-2. But Cleveland now shares the second spot with Baltimore after the Orioles stopped Washington 2-0.
Relief pitcher John Hiller walked Rich Reese with one out in the ninth and Cesar Tovar singled him to second. Carew then sliced a single to left scoring Reese.
Until Carew's seventh-inning single the game was a battle of home runs. Tovar cracked his fourth in the first inning and rookie shortstop Rick Renick connected in the second to become the 36th player to hit a homer on his first at-bat in the major leagues.

But the Tigers went ahead in the third when Mickey Stanley socked a three-run homer, his seventh, and Dick McAuliffe hit his 10th in the fifth.
"I didn't even hit it," said Stanley. "It was a windblown job. As everyone knows, I'm not a home run hitter. I just wait for the wind to blow and get one up in the air."
After Renick's homer, Detroit starter Mickey Lolich settled down until the seventh. Frank Quilici singled and when Bruce Look walked with one out, Pat Dobson replaced Lolich.
Dobson walked Reese, a pinch hitter, and retired Tovar on a shallow fly. But Carew lined a single to right, tying the game.
"I can't remember when we last lost one in the late innings," said McAuliffe. "We haven't lost too many I'll guarantee you."
The defeat was in fact only their third in the last 15 games.
Manager Mayo Smith was undecided on tonight's starter against Minnesota's Jim Kaat 6-5. The choice was between Earl Wilson 6-6 and Denny McLain 16-2.

The high flying Rotary Little Leaguers slipped out of first place this week as the Bankers and Lions greased the skids. Needing two wins to clinch the 1968 championship, the league leaders lost some of their poise when Davy Nelson blasted one of Al Schwabach's opening pitches into a driving wind and over the fence for the first run of the game. Rotary tied it up in the bottom of the inning but the Bankers hung on determinedly as Nelson greeted Schwabach in the top of the third with a three base smash against the fence and the Bankers were off and running for a four run rally. Effective in the clutch, Nelson scattered four hits over the route to win 6 to 3.
With a day's rest Rotary sent their seven game winner

Jim Nevala to the hill against the Lions, who copied their professional counterpart National League All Stars by scoring a run in the first inning on a hit batsman, a single and fielders choice. Playing inspired ball the Lions made the run stand up with pint size J Kuchenberg providing the key defensive play of the game. With Rotary runners in scoring position Kuchenberg reached over the rail to erase Jim Nevala the league's leading batter. Matt Smith and Nevala got the only two hits off Don Kleiman as the right hander pitched the best game of his young career.
Statistically the Lions defeat left Rotary tied with Kiwanis for the first half season and the Bankers lost gave Bankers, V. F. W., Lions and Eagles life for the second half of the season.
The teams will take a break for next week's Little League tournament with Jeff Young waving the hottest bat in the league with a 437 average and Kleiman and Mike Meyers tops in pitching.

U.P. Amateur Teams Hit Tournament Trail

Powers and Manistique will square off Wednesday, with the losers playing Thursday and the winners on Friday in the double elimination tourney. The winner of the tournament advances to the U. P. Tourney scheduled in Escanaba, July 27-28.

Also on Friday, the Escanaba Jaycees Little League will host Menominee, Manistique and Munising in an Area Little League Tournament. Menominee plays Manistique at 2:30 and Escanaba meets Munising at 4.

C & H Rail Car Air Hoses Cut

CALUMET (AP) — Officials have estimated damage at "thousands of dollars" in the slashing of air brake hoses on 49 Calumet & Hecla Co. railroad cars designed to carry copper ore.

The brake hoses were found slashed Tuesday. A company spokesman described the cutting as "a serious sabotage problem."

State Police and sheriff's men were investigating the slashing, which occurred at the firm's Ahmeek Mill at Lake Linden.

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Pyle, a magician and stage pickpocket expert, has learned the dangers of being too good a teacher. While Pyle was performing for a private group Wednesday at the Country Club of Detroit, someone stole a wallet containing $400 from his prop case.

DETROIT (AP) — The British government announced that it will turn over one of its last major military footholds in the Far East, the big Singapore naval base, to the government of that island nation by the end of this year.

In a new white paper on defense policy, the Labor government said it would release the base—complete with dockyards, drydocks and other repair and storage installations—so the Singapore government can begin converting it to commercial use.

The transfer of the base this year is part of a program to ease adverse effects on local economies of the extensive reduction of British military forces east of Suez by 1971.

The white paper reported the government's progress in its re-deployment program.

MANISTIQUE Fly Fishing For Trout Improves

Moderate weather with strong winds have dried up the terrain a bit; however, intermittent rains keep streams moderately high and lake surfaces cool. Good fly hatches are common on calm evenings. Fly fishing for trout and splake has been good. Strong winds have been a limiting factor to good walleye and pike fishing on the Big Lakes.

Flowers now blooming profusely are Devil's Paint Brush, Wild Buttercups and Ox-Eyed Daisies, Evening Primrose and Yarrow. There are indications of a good blueberry crop in some areas. Rubies in general are in good condition. Bears have been pestiferous around campgrounds and campers are warned to cover food and garbage well before leaving camp.

Walleye: Fishing only fair but best reports received from Munuscong and Potagannissing Bay, Carp Lake and Tahquamenon River (between Falls and near mouth) in Chippewa County; Manistique Lake and Tahquamenon River, Luce County; Indian Lake and Manistique River, Schoolcraft County. Night crawlers and minnows have been preferred bait.

Bluegill Catch Good

Northern Pike: In Chippewa County best results are reported from Lake George, Lower Tahquamenon River, Sheldrake Flowage, Carp and Frenchman

Card of Thanks

DeMars
We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement. The death of our dear father, Henry DeMars, was a great loss to all of us. We are grateful to Rev. Father Isidore for his comforting words, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers, spiritual bouquets, those who offered the use of their cars and to anyone who helped in any way. Your kindness and sympathy were a great comfort and service to all of us. We are grateful to the funeral home for their service and to the church for their service. We are grateful to the State and Court Rule.

In Memoriam

McGovern

In loving memory of John McGovern.

A while ago — a year in fact — God called you to his side. A reward was due, one soul he lacked. In heaven you abide. In our eyes a saint you stand. Free from pain and sin. In your prayers remember us. And one day soon with God and you. We'll be a family once again.

New College Campus Ground Breaking Set

The Board of Trustees of Bay de Noc Community College will break ground for development of a new campus in ceremonies scheduled Friday, Aug. 16.

"This will mark the beginning of the transition of the college from a leased building to permanent facilities," said Dr. Richard Rinehart, college president.

The Board of Trustees Thursday authorized the college administration to proceed with detailed planning for financing the new campus development at the 120-acre site in Escanaba's Industrial Park along Danforth Road.

Plans Detailed
Rinehart and Leo Alperovitz, business director, outlined budget trends and forecasts for the next several years, including operational expenses, major equipment needs and building costs and site development work.

The administration's program approved by the Board included a recommendation for a tax anticipation note to pay the local share of the first building, a bond issue to begin one year later to pay the local share of the next three buildings and specific millage allocations for equipment needed in the new programs and facilities.

All of the financial needs would be covered by the 2.5 mills now available to the community college from local sources.

The tax anticipation note would be amortized over three years and the bond issue over an 11 year period.

Rinehart said a fiscal study prepared by the college administration showed that the combination of note and bond issue would result in the lowest interest cost. A subsequent bond issue after five years could provide for additional buildings, he reported.

Name Daverman
The Board voted unanimously to appoint Daverman Associates to prepare preliminary plans for the second building to be constructed and named Warren Holmes, Inc., architects, Lansing, to prepare working drawings and to supervise construction.

In other business, Dr. William Butt, academic dean, reported on faculty appointments proposed. The board confirmed Butt's recommendations and authorized offering contracts to new faculty members in English, history, mathematics, psychology, industrial machine technology and secretarial skills.

Dr. Butt pointed out that the added positions will extend course offerings of the college and also will allow start of new occupational programs. While the new technical courses are added, he said, a 50 to 75 per cent increase in course offerings in science and the humanities also will be accomplished.

Officials said Thursday that plans are being made to make a voice and picture tape of every person attending the trial of James Earl Ray, charged with assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here on April 4.

This would be the first trial anywhere that such a security precaution has been required, Charles Holmes, public relations aide to Sheriff William N. Morris, said.

Newsmen accredited to cover the trial, expected to be held in late fall, will be given identification cards bearing their photographs.

The trial is scheduled to be held in one of the Shelby County Criminal Court courtrooms so Ray can be brought directly into the court through an underground corridor without being seen by the outside public.

A secondary security line is expected to be established to keep everyone without pressing business out of the Criminal Courts building.

Ray currently is in jail in London awaiting a hearing on his appeal of an extradition order.

"This is a serious matter," said Sheriff Morris, who is in charge of arrangements for the trial.

"There will be no carnival air here," Morris said. "The sheriff, the judges and the attorney general have been conferring at intervals for several weeks to assure a fair and orderly trial in a dignified atmosphere."

"The trial will be conducted in strict keeping with established standards of dignity and justice," said Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale, who will head the prosecution team.

Inspector Warren Cargill has been placed in charge of physical arrangements for the trial, and he is supervising the remodeling of the interior cell in which Ray would be housed if returned from London.

The largest Criminal Courts courtroom can seat slightly over 100 spectators, and a large number of the seats will be assigned to news media representatives covering the trial, Morris said, however, seats would be reserved for relatives of both Ray and King, and some would be kept for the general public.

No photographs will be allowed in the courtroom, although a ruling has not yet been made on whether pictures will be permitted in the corridors.

Lord Hunt was rebuffed by a Nigerian army commander Thursday when he asked that Port Harcourt, the closest port to the Biafran area, be designated a forwarding point for tons of food piling up outside the war-torn country.

He reported that Col. Benjamin Adekunle, commanding the federal government's forces along the eastern coast reserved the port facilities for military needs. Lord Hunt said the colonel was a single-minded soldier who puts winning the war ahead of the refugee problem.

Adekunle told newsmen he did not favor foreigners entering war areas and "disturbing" the fighting. He was reported angered by Lord Hunt's visit.

Lord Hunt also visited the town of Ikot Ekpene, in a refugee-choked area 50 miles northeast of Port Harcourt. As he was leaving, the town was attacked by rebel Biafran troops, but they were driven back by Nigerian federal forces.

Pamela Sharkey has returned home from Horseshoe Lake near Palmer, where she was a guest of the Wally Waisanen family.

Mrs. Art Hill and Mrs. Ann Garceau of Marquette and George Lusardi Sr., of Dixon, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lusardi of Escanaba visited with Betty Sharkey and George Lusardi.

Biafra Relief Effort Blocked
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The chief of a British mercy mission sought a meeting today with Nigerian government chief Yakubu Gowon as he tried to arrange delivery of more relief supplies to millions of starving war refugees in secessionist Biafra.

Lord Hunt was rebuffed by a Nigerian army commander Thursday when he asked that Port Harcourt, the closest port to the Biafran area, be designated a forwarding point for tons of food piling up outside the war-torn country.

He reported that Col. Benjamin Adekunle, commanding the federal government's forces along the eastern coast reserved the port facilities for military needs. Lord Hunt said the colonel was a single-minded soldier who puts winning the war ahead of the refugee problem.

Adekunle told newsmen he did not favor foreigners entering war areas and "disturbing" the fighting. He was reported angered by Lord Hunt's visit.

Lord Hunt also visited the town of Ikot Ekpene, in a refugee-choked area 50 miles northeast of Port Harcourt. As he was leaving, the town was attacked by rebel Biafran troops, but they were driven back by Nigerian federal forces.

Seek Path For Social Change WCC Is Urged
UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — Young Christians attending the World Council of Churches assembly called on their elders Thursday night to stop supporting the status quo and to help find nonviolent paths to social change.

The resolution, put forward in one of the assembly sections, also said: "We are agreed that as Christians we cannot condemn liberation movements which take recourse to violence as a last resort against oppressive systems."

The council's general assembly unanimously elected Roman Catholics for the first time to full membership on a commission of the World Council of Churches.

Nine Catholic theologians, whose nomination was approved in advance by the Vatican, now have a voice and a vote in council deliberations on the fundamentals of Christian faith.

State chairman Harold Snyder said, "We don't form vigilante groups to take the law into our own hands. We are not a military organization."

On Wednesday, Oakland County campaign chairman Benny Burnett said he has organized a group of about 100, armed with rifles and bayonets to protect George Wallace if Gov. George Romney does not provide state protection.
